Adaptive Lights

Take your performances to the next level by simplifying your gear into Mobile Light. Eliminate the cost of cables and expensive lighting boards that can easily be damaged. This follow spot can be guided remotely and can save time setting up and still give a professional quality lighting design.

Turn your next dance party into an amazing interactive light show. With Adaptive light body movement actually creates the show! Not only can these fun lights react to you they can also follow you, turning into a great stage performance. Make the show memorable with an inexpensive home lighting system that will give you the look of a big name band.

Imagine the creative use in the adaptive light. Its color and motion sensor can be used for video, stage and theater, or just hours of house hold fun, it will also bring energy to any party setting. Watch as its shine is based on how you move creating color and fun in all types of environment. This adaptive lighting would be great in reading body language and facial expression, giving those tell tale signs that the average eye can't pick up. This unique mobile light follows your every move. While on stage it is important to know who is in the spot light. The mobile light gives the freedom to move with out care. As the sensor indicates your location it will signal the designated light of your movement, and follow to insure proper lighting.
